Ilima Intermediate School Attendance Policy

The Hawaii State Compulsory Attendance Law

The Hawaii Revised Statutes, Sec. 298-9, states that "unless excluded from school or excepted from attendance, all children will have arrived at the age of at least six years, and who will not have arrived at the age of eighteen years, on or before December 31 of any school year, shall attend either a public or private school for and during such year, and any parent, guardian, and other person having the responsibility for or care of a child whose attendance at school is obligatory- shall send the child to some such school."

Section 298-13, Enforcement, HRS, places the responsibility for enforcing compulsory attendance with the Department of Education (DOE). Toward this end, agreements have been developed with all police departments within the state regarding truant students. Students who are chronically absent may be referred to Family Court.

Exemption from the compulsory attendance law is permitted only under specified conditions pursuant to Section 298-9, Attendance compulsory, Exceptions, HRS, and DOE regulations relating to compulsory attendance exceptions.

HRS 302A-1135 provides that a parent or guardian who does not enforce the child's regular school attendance may be guilty of a petty misdemeanor. The penalty for a petty misdemeanor is a fine of up to $1,000 (HRS 707-640) or jail time for up to thirty (30) days (HRS 706-663).

The Hawaii State Department of Education's Philosophical Base

In consonance with the statutory requirements relating to education, the DOE is committed to providing each individual with an educational program, which will help the student to develop to the fullest extent of the student's capabilities and become a useful and personally successful member of society. Teacher, administrators, and other staff shall make every effort to work with the students and their parent(s) and/or guardian(s) to optimize available learning activities as well as educational services and opportunities. According to the Board of Education's Student Code of Conduct, policy regarding attendance and punctuality, students are expected to attend school daily, attend all classes, and be on time every day.

Campbell Complex Philosophy

We, the schools of the Campbell Community, with the support of the parents and the community, believe that:

- School attendance is a primary indicator of academic success.
- Optimum benefits of education can be achieved only when students attend school daily and are in class on time.
- Excessive absences, unexcused absences and/or tardies are barriers to learning and prevent maximum teaching and learning from taking place.
- To have effective policy, all stakeholders, collectively, must support all efforts toward the development of a school community that teaches and enforces a strong attendance policy with effective procedures and interventions.
- Attendance is a learned attitude and behavior that can be pro-actively taught. Schools will pro-actively teach appropriate behaviors and attitude through the Positive Behavior Support program in each school complex wide. Absenteeism is a behavior that can be corrected when all stakeholders work together. When needed, higher-level interventions such as monitoring, counseling and special programs, may be necessary to avert court involvement. Should court involvement be necessary, programs supporting a return to daily educational participation will be provided in the best interest of the student.
- We are all responsible to support the procedures and intervention that promote and guide all youth toward meeting the high standards for the Ilima Intermediate School Graduate Profile in preparation of their personal goals and future pursuits.
- Students absent for 15 or more consecutive days, excluding authorized school activities or medical absences, may be released from school.

Tardy Procedures - Start of School Day

- Tardy students report to the Front Office, sign in on the Tardy Log, and give a reason for being tardy.
- At the end of the week, the Attendance Clerk will send the names of students who are tardy 3x in one week to the grade level counselor.
- The counselors will meet with the tardy student on Monday (or if they're out, the first day back) and work with students to complete a Goal Statement; the Parent will be contacted. Students will share their Goal Statement with their parent and the parent will be asked to sign and acknowledge the concern.
- The Goal Statement must be returned to the counselor the next day.
- This process will repeat for weeks 2 and 3.
- During the two weeks, counselors will monitor the recurring tardy students to assist students in resolving their reasons and/or problems with arriving to school on time.
- At the end of the three weeks, if there is no improvement, the student will be referred to the grade level Vice-Principal. Vice Principals will call for a Parent/Counselor/Administrator meeting to address the attendance concern.
- If tardies continue after the meeting, the student will be assigned to After-School Detention for 1 to 5 days. Students who refuse to attend In-School Detention may be suspended for insubordination.

Tardy Procedures - During the School Day

- Unexcused student tardy during the school day is the jurisdiction of the classroom teacher. An individual teacher or Team members may decide on an appropriate consequence for an unexcused tardy.
- Students returning from an office, administrative, or health room visit will be given a re-entry pass.
- Teachers who might be tutoring or in withholding students for various reasons, must issue their own late note addressed to the receiving teacher.
- A tardy student, with or without a pass/note, must be allowed to enter the classroom. DO NOT send the student to retrieve a late pass/note. Teacher may then apply consequences.
- Teachers should contact parents for students who are chronically tardy for class and inform them of classroom consequences.

Student Absence Procedures

- A note from a parent or guardian must accompany a student who is absent for any reason upon his/her return to school.
- The note must give the child's full name, date of absence and a reason for the absence. Please make sure that the note is legible. The parent or guardian must sign the note. If a note is not provided, the absence will be considered unexcused (truant) and school level consequences will be given.
- A returning student must see the Attendance Clerk for a re-admittance slip that is taken to each of the student's teachers.

Vacation

When a student is going on a vacation, a parent/guardian must send or bring a letter to the front office two weeks before leaving for a trip. The letter must state when their child will be absent from school and the return date, parent's name, and contact number in case more information is needed. If the vacation is longer than 10 days, student must withdraw. A parent/guardian must re-register the student with 2 proof of residence when returning from vacation.
